REINVENTING THE FLEX SPACE NEEDED FOR PANDEMIC RESPONSE

Our Clinics on Wheels™ Vaccine Distribution Units are compliant to life safety and quality of care standards, this mobile platform can be towed using a standard pick-up truck, requiring no commercial driver's license to transport. With its own power generator and communications hub, this clinic can stand alone in the most austere locations providing mobile medical and telemedical services. Once the facility is set-up, the wheelchair ramp with handrails leads to an ADA-compliant door, ensuring access for all types of differently-abled people.

Core Capability

Delivering medically compliant clinical capability to the most austere locations. Self-sufficient power, water, and communications on a mobile platform built to meet medical office standards of care. Wheelchair accessibility ensuring differently-abled people have full access to services. Custom manufacturing to give the client what they need when they need it.

Key Differentiators

Easy to re-deploy on a daily basis one person can set up in less than 5 minutes.

Scalable design supports a single unit response up to a complete response center.

Proven pivotable assets that can one day respond to a disaster and the next day meet the standards of care to become accredited medical public health facilities.

Our Partners and Supply Chain

As a design-build manufacturer, WHS integrates many distributors into our supply chain. This supports our ability to ramp-up manufacturing as needed and reduces the risks of potential shortages already seen during this pandemic. Our best-in-class vendors provide medical equipment and mounting systems as well as disinfecting technologies making Clinics on Wheels™ a superior medical surge asset.
